THE QUEST FOR "PEACE AND PLENTY"

"Peace and plenty" is an old-fashioned phrase. It has been prayed for by the pious and promised by the politicians for so long that the words, as a team, have been worn thin to the point of losing their meaning.

Yet the desire for peace and plenty is a fundamental human aspiration. Without these two blessings a great deal of what we know as civilization would not be possible. Culture, higher learning, material progress and many other ingredients of human happiness are ours only when we are freed from fear and want and exhausting drudgery.

Peace and plenty, like a lot of other blessings, must be worked for as well as prayed for. In the last year the people of this country have worked hard for both. They have been aided in their work by good fortune. And even though peace is not as secure as we would wish, another bountiful harvest has assured us of the plenty which can be a powerful instrument in the quest for peace.

The traditional American feast that we celebrate Thursday is a symbol of our bounty. We can eat and eat well, and we can also share. And by sharing we can help bring to others less fortunate that freedom from want and from fear that helps to dispel the discontent which breeds confusion and war.

So, on this Thanksgiving Day, let us humbly and sincerely give thanks for peace and plenty.

U. S. SHOULD CLARIFY PALESTINE STAND, LEAD IN SETTLING WAR

It is almost a year since the UN General Assembly voted the partition of Palestine and gave the new state of Israel its start in life. But the initial blessing has been followed by some rather odd treatment in the ensuing months.

The Arabs started the Palestine war as much in defiance of the UN decision as of the Jews. The UN made no move to assemble a police force, but rather left it up to Israel to enforce its order. Yet Israel has not been permitted to buy arms from the United States, whose support of partition was largely responsible for the UN's favorable action.

Last month Egyptian troops broke the latest truce by firing on convoys carrying supplies to Jewish settlements in the Negeb desert. The Jews fought back and succeeded in winning considerable territory, including the historic city of Beersheba. Britain reacted to this by proposing that the UN impose sanctions against Israel.

The latest example of odd treatment was the proposal of acting UN Mediator Bunche that Israel withdraw its forces from the Negeb to the lines of Oct. 14.

If the UN's decision of last November means anything, then Egyptian troops have no business in the Negeb. They have invaded territory assigned to Israel. Yet the mood of some of the UN's leading powers seems to be one of conciliation toward the aggressors. Britain, at least, is openly currying the favor of the defiant Arab states. And there is support for the British stand—even, until recently, from the United States.

Quite obviously the British government is anxious to stay in the eastern Mediterranean area and protect its oil lines there. But it has assumed from the start that it could only deal with the Arabs. Now, as the result of almost open hostility toward Israel, that assumption is probably correct.

Meanwhile, U. S. policy has been so unstable that it is impossible to say just where our government stands today. We have pushed through partition, swiftly repudiated it, and as swiftly granted the Israeli government de facto recognition. We have flirted with the idea of backing Britain on sanctions, then returned to the original partition plan.

It seems about time that this government resume the leadership which it showed in putting through partition and try to settle the war in Palestine. For by all accounts it can be settled. Jews and Arabs, in independent talks, apparently have made progress toward agreement. The UN at present seems to be contributing more confusion than firm guidance in the matter.

The war in Palestine can be settled, but not alone on British terms. There are considerations of justice and political morality that weigh just as heavily in the interest of world peace as Britain's position in the Near East. It is time for a settlement that will not make a mockery of the UN decision, or of the Jews' brave fight to carry it out in spite of unnecessary odds.

Oadie C. Carter, commander of Moss Walton Post 953, gave a short talk in which he told of the new heating plant recently installed at the Legion home. It was announced that bingo will be played each Friday night, with members of the auxiliary to be in charge of the kitchen.

All wives, mothers, daughters and sisters of Legion members are invited to become members of the auxiliary.

Santa Claus Will Be Welcomed Royally At His Arrival Friday

Santa Claus is in for his usual hearty reception when he comes to Jacksonville on his annual visit Friday afternoon. Final preparations are now under way for the arrival of Old St. Nick from the North Pole.

The kindly old gentleman may be a bit surprised when he sees the new home which is being prepared for him. A specially constructed hut, built to resemble a candy house, will be put in place on Thanksgiving Day and will be in readiness when Santa arrives at 2:30 p. m. Friday.

His new home will be located on the south side of the park. Santa will be there every day from 2 to 4 p. m., except Saturdays, when he will receive his little visitors in the morning as well as during the afternoon.

Last year, Santa made his home in a hut which resembled an igloo. Figures At Entrances
Two large hand-painted Christmas figures, eight by four feet in size, will be placed at each of the four main entrances to the park.

It was also planned to have a large Christmas tree in each section of the park. The trees haven't as yet arrived and may not be set in place until some time next week.

Efforts were also made to secure a band to herald Santa's arrival, but because of the Thanksgiving holidays, no band was available.

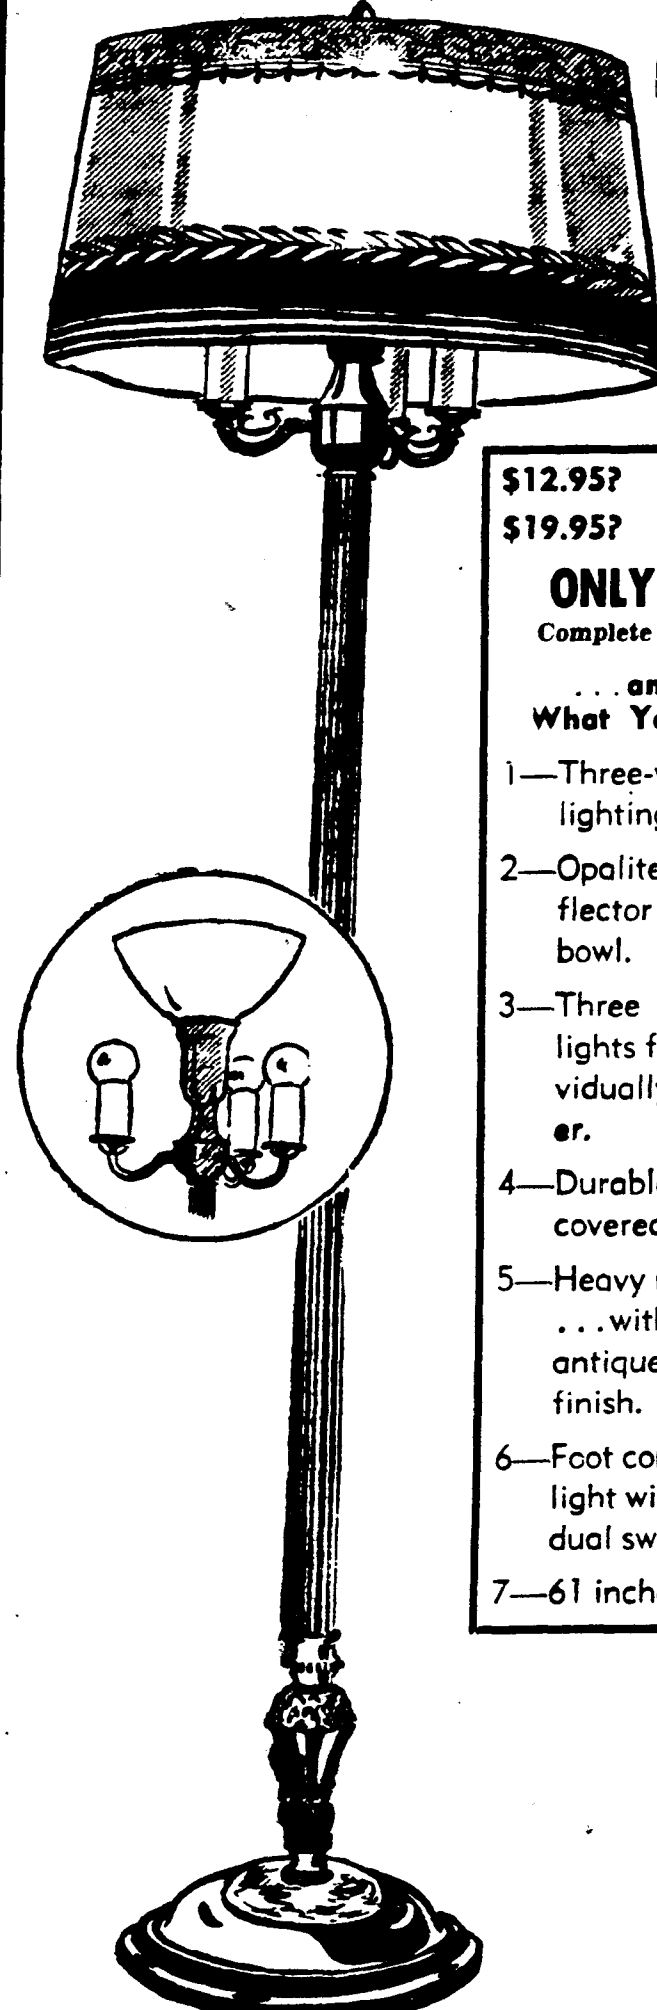

Mode of Travel Still Unknown
Santa hasn't yet revealed just what mode of travel he will use to make the trip to this city, but at his suggestion a contest is being held, whereby the youngsters who correctly guess by what means he will make the trip from the North Pole will be awarded free theater tickets.

Veterans Should Watch Dates Of Service Policies

Illinois veterans of World War II holding original National Life Insurance policies were warned Wednesday to watch the expiration date of their policies.

The warning came from Homer G. Bradley, administrator of the Illinois Veterans Commission, who pointed out that original NSLI policies are expiring every day and will continue to do so until December 1953.

Veterans holding such policies are urged to renew their insurance for another five-year period before the expiration date or to convert to one of several plans available.

To prevent losing their insurance, every veteran should check with their nearest Illinois Veterans Commission office to ascertain the status of their insurance.

W. C. Calhoun, Retired Franklin Man, Dies

W. C. Calhoun of Franklin, who came to Morgan county when a young man to make his own way, and became one of the community's most prominent citizens and landowners, died Wednesday morning at 7:05 o'clock at Passavant hospital.

Mr. Calhoun sometimes confided to friends that he had only $50 in his pocket when he arrived in Morgan county from Kentucky at the age of 23 years. Later in life by fair and judicious business methods he became owner of a lumber, fuel and grain business in Franklin, and of extensive farm holdings.

For many years the W. C. Calhoun lumber yard and elevator were Franklin landmarks. Mr. Calhoun retired five years ago after having been engaged in active business more than 50 years.

He was 83 years old at the time of death. He entered the hospital three weeks ago, having been in poor health several years with heart trouble.

Born in Kentucky
William Caldwell Calhoun was born Oct. 29, 1865, in Casey county, Kentucky, the son of Byron T. and Cyrena May Calhoun. He was the oldest of ten children, all of whom lived in the vicinity of Gravel Springs, Ky.

When a young man he received a good education at the Hoboken University and Georgetown college.

In 1893 Mr. Calhoun was present at the opening of the famous Oklahoma strip at Kingfisher, Okla., one of the historic events in the west.

Mr. Calhoun purchased the elevator and coal business in Franklin in 1895 and the lumber business in 1901. He acquired the lumber business at Alexander in 1919.

Before engaging in business Mr. Calhoun taught in the Morgan county rural schools for several years.

He was united in marriage with Sallie Boulware on Dec. 29, 1898, who preceded him in death on Christmas morning, 1917.

They were the parents of four children, William Boulware Calhoun of St. Louis, Mo., Eloise Pamela Lauterbach, South Bend, Ind., Mary Kathleen Hoffman, Pekin, Ill., and Byron T. Calhoun of Kansas City, Mo. There are four grandchildren.

Endowed Chinese School
Mr. Calhoun established the Sallie Boulware Calhoun day school for girls near Kin Kiang, China, in 1917 in memory of his deceased wife, and endowed the school in 1918.

On Jan. 1, 1919, Mr. Calhoun was united in marriage with Emma Burnett of Waverly. One daughter, born Feb. 1, 1920, died in infancy. Mrs. Calhoun survives her husband.

He also leaves one brother, J. R. Calhoun of Danville, Ky., and two sisters, Mrs. John Clarkson, Danville, Ky., and Mrs. Roy Harmon of Gravel Springs, Ky.

Served Church
Mr. Calhoun was a member of the First Methodist church of Franklin, having served on the official board and contributing generously to its support. He was a regular attendant at church services as long as health permitted.

The remains were taken to the Neece Funeral Home in Franklin, but were later removed to the family residence, where the family will meet friends.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Neece Funeral Home. Burial will be in Franklin cemetery.

Club President Gives Reasons To Be Thankful

Miss Blanche Spill, president of the Jacksonville Business and Professional Women's Club, has received a Thanksgiving message from Dr. K. Frances Scott of Northampton, Mass., President of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc.

Addressed to All B. & P. Clubs

Dr. Scott's message addressed to all B. & P. Clubs reads as follows: "The year 1948 offers business and professional women several reasons for thanksgiving. The elections increased the number of women elected to the Congress. Eight women will sit in our lawmaking body in January, including one senator. It is cause for rejoicing that we are steadily, if slowly, taking our rightful place in our national government."

"Even more important is the fact that these women were put into office by votes of both men and women, that men are now willing to accept a qualified woman as their representative. Women are being regarded as citizens, worthy of all a citizen's rights and privileges."

"On the international scene the United Nation's work on the Declaration of Human Rights is openly awarding women equality with men, in marriage and in the economic field."

"On the domestic scene the number of positions for women who work is holding steady or increasing. Our type of economy is enabling women by the millions to earn their living under our system of free enterprise. Women are finding a real opportunity to work freely; and to win a more nearly adequate return for their labor."

"For all these events of 1948 let us be thankful."

Ways to Save

If you were a native of Siam, you would save cowry shells, but you would need a large space in which to keep them. Five dollars worth of shells would weigh over 200 pounds. If you wanted to hire porters to carry your "wealth" you would find that at the end of 150 miles you would owe the entire amount, and more too, to your porters....

It's hard to save in Siam.... but it's a pleasure in Jacksonville, and profitable as well. Jacksonville Savings & Loan Association welcomes your savings, in large or small amounts, and pays you a profit for being thrifty. Stop in and let us explain.

Greene Co. 4-H Achievement Day Will Be Dec. 8

Carrollton—The tentative date of the Greene County 4-H club achievement program was set for December 8 at 7:30 p. m. in the court house. The plans for the achievement program were made at a meeting of the Greene County 4-H Club Federation officers held in the Farm Bureau hall.

According to present plans a representative from the extension staff of the University of Illinois will be present and will give a summary of the year in 4-H club work from a national standpoint. Short talks will also be given concerning the 1949 4-H club program both in home economics and agriculture by Miss Sophia Powell, home adviser, and W. H. Brown Jr., the farm adviser.

Special recognition will be given the county and state project honor and state outstanding 4-H club members. Short talks will also be made by Bennett Roodhouse, Robert Kinser, Miss Martha Wehrly, Miss Joan Daniels and Richard Logan. The first four named attended the 4-H club state leadership camp as representatives of this county and in their talks will give a resume of the trip. Kinser will also give a review of his trip on a soil conservation tour and Richard Logan will talk on a Wild Life Conservation program.

Special musical numbers are also being planned. All the boys and girls in the 4-H clubs of the county and their parents are urged to attend this Achievement program.

Says Older Men Can Be Of Much Service To Youth

Attorney Andrew Ormiston spoke to the Optimist club Wednesday noon on his experiences as a former high school principal and national park forest ranger, in the guidance of boys.

"Every boy has a story—in fact, everyone has a story," Attorney Ormiston stated. "No two stories are exactly alike. Each youngster's problems require individual treatment. The influence of adults in helping boys solve their problems often is not recognized until later in life." The speaker told of a husky 15 year old boy who took no interest in athletics. Yet the offer of a small job after school, coupled with a suggestion that payment would be just enough for a pair of new basketball shoes, started the lad on a career which ended with his selection as an all star center.

Up to that time, Attorney Ormiston explained, the youth tried to hide his inability to buy basketball shoes by proclaiming that he did not like athletics.

The speaker urged business and professional men to make themselves more approachable by boys and young men who are in need of friendly counsel. Informal chats between older men who have attained a degree of success, and boys in need of guidance, often are the source of inspiration needed to touch off a budding career.

During a business session presided over by Vice President M. Brooks Byus, the Optimist club discussed plans for a historical tour for young people.

Announcement was made that the Wednesday preceding Christmas, the clubmen will invite boys as their guests at a meeting at the Dunlap when a special holiday program will be given.

Parents Warned on Driving Practice

Chicago—(AP)—Traffic experts are stressing psychology in an effort to save some of the estimated 4,000 lives lost annually in this country through automobile accidents involving teen-age drivers. Ideals of speed and safety, they hold, are developed before youngsters actually begin to drive.

"You can teach teen-age boys and girls the mechanics of operating an automobile," declares H. G. Kemper, president of Lumbermens Mutual Casualty Co., "but their ideas of driving responsibility are formed long before then." Kemper cautions parents to be especially careful when driving with children in their cars.

Much of the blame for our high accident rate, he believes, rests on the shoulders of parents who set bad examples for their children.

Elm Disease Causes Widespread Concern

A number of citizens have been heard to express concern for the safety of Jacksonville's elm trees since the council discussion Monday night, at which it was brought out that phloem necrosis has spread to many Illinois communities, leaving rows of dead trees in its wake.

Some of the citizens expect to have trees on their property examined for signs of the disease. Others are in favor of a community-wide spraying program to combat the leaf hoppers, which carry the disease.

Numerous questions have been asked concerning the symptoms of the elm disease, where it has caused the most havoc, and how it can be controlled. The Illinois State Natural History Survey has answered a number of questions in a specially prepared bulletin, issued to city officials and citizens interested in the subject.

Illinois Cities Affected
The Natural History Survey announced that phloem necrosis is widely distributed over 14 states, including Illinois. It occurs throughout the southern two-thirds of Illinois, extending northward as far as Danville, Bloomington and Peoria, and almost to Burlington, Iowa. North of this it has been found only at Melvin, Dwight and Rockford.

Over the territory in which it occurs it has killed many thousands of elm trees. In both Lincoln and Mattoon it killed about 500 elms in the summer of 1948 alone. In Peoria about 700 elms per year have been dying for several years. In Springfield between 1,500 and 2,000 trees were dead by the fall of this year.

On infected trees, rolling, yellowing, withering and falling leaves become conspicuous after about July 1. In late stages of the disease, a butterscotch color appears in the thin layer of inner bark which is in contact with the sapwood. This color is most generally found at the base of the trunk and in the buttress roots. It can be detected only on freshly cut bark, usually after the leaves begin to yellow and fall. The odor of wintergreen emanates from the discolored bark.

Insects Spread Virus
The disease is caused by a virus, not by any bacterium or fungus. Research has shown that it is carried from infected trees to healthy trees by a particular kind of leaf hopper.

There is no spray, chemical injection, trunk paint, soil treatment or fertilizer known to have any beneficial effect on infected trees.

However, entomologists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture have reported that the leaf hopper which carries the virus can be controlled by special formulations of DDT. These formulations are applied as sprays and must be put on in large amounts by high-powered machinery. The sprays must cover completely the under sides of all leaves to insure complete control of the leaf hoppers. A single leaf hopper, if it should fly into a tree and not be killed before feeding there, might infect the tree, the entomologists report.

The U. S. Department at present recommends only two types of equipment for spraying. These are hydraulic sprayers that develop 500 or 25 to 40 gallons of spray per minute, and mist blower sprays that deliver 6,000 cubic feet of air per minute, more for very large trees, at a velocity of about 120 miles per hour. Equipment of this kind costs between $2,000 and $3,000.

The experts say that two spray applications are required—when the leaves are full grown, usually between June 15 and June 20, and when midsummer or second growth occurs, usually between July 20 and August 5.

With a number of citizens serving as observers, the health of elms in Jacksonville will be watched closely. Should definite signs of the disease appear, it is probable that organized steps would be taken to kill leaf hoppers by spraying.

The city has hundreds of elm trees, both on boulevards and on private property. They are considered one of the city's major assets both from the standpoint of attractiveness and utility.

SELLING WAVE CUTS PRICE OF GRAINS: RALLY FOLLOWS

Chicago, Nov. 24 — (P) — Grains had a shaky appearance today in the face of price depressing news. A selling wave mid-way in the session knocked down around a couple of cents. After that, the market made a small scale rally in lighter trading.

There wasn't much in the news of encourage buying. Corn bookings expanded. Hedging pressure increased in wheat. Practically all the nation's ports were tied down by strikes or embargoes, blocking grain exports. And Belgium had cancelled its allocations of wheat, soybeans and lard. Receipts were: Wheat 11 cars, corn 324, oats 34 and soybeans 17.

Wheat closed 4-1/4 lower, December $2.39 1/2, corn was 1-1/4 lower, December $1.45 1/2-1.46, oats were 1-1/4 lower, December 85-84 1/2, rye was 1-1/4 lower, December $1.78 1/2, soybeans were 3 to 2 cents lower, December $2.76 1/2-2.77, and lard was 10 cents lower to 7 cents a hundred pounds higher, December $19.12-19.15.

New York Stock Market

New York, Nov. 24 — (P) — Demand for stocks faded away in today's market and prices dropped fractions to around 3 points.

Many issues, including some of the so-called pivotal stocks, struck new lows for the year or longer.

Trading got off to a comparatively slow start but soon picked up momentum as prices started to slide. Turnover for the full session was at the rate of about 1,200,000 shares.

The decline was the third in a row. Today alone, though, was enough to wipe out the gains made in last week's orderly advance.

Another rich dish of dividends was served up to traders with no visible effect.

Brokerage houses reported that some of the selling was due to disappointment over failure of last week's rally to take hold.

Lows for 1948 were established by Chrysler, Western Union, Douglas Aircraft, International Telephone, and Pepsi-Cola. Pepsi-Cola tripped on omitted dividend.

Others down were U. S. Steel, National Steel, General Motors, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Schenley, General Electric, Nickel Plate and Standard Oil (NJ).

Bonds trailed downward after stocks. U. S. governments moved evenly in over-the-counter dealings.

Eastern Favored To Beat Wesleyan In Corn Bowl Tilt

Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 24 — (P) — Illinois Wesleyan Little Nine champions, will be host to Eastern State's IIAAC pennant winners in the second annual Corn Bowl game here tomorrow. All signs point to a second successive victory for IIAAC.

Eastern, aiming to better the 21-0 score Southern rolled up on North Central last year, rates as a top heavy favorite following Wesleyan's decisive 32-6 licking at the hands of State Normal Saturday.

Eastern earlier crowned ISNU 13-7, in the game that decided the IIAAC championship.

Wesleyan goes into the big game with a 6-3 record, but is unbeaten in Little Nine play. The Titans lost to Indiana State and DePauw in addition to Normal.

Claassen Favors Army To Defeat Middies Saturday

By Harold Claassen

New York, Nov. 24 — (P) — Stabbing this week's football winners with a turkey pin-feather:

Army vs Navy: The nation's No. 1 gridiron spectacle that will lure 100,000 fans, plus President Truman. Army goes into Saturday's fray with an all-winning record. Navy with an all-losing list. Neither streak will end here. Army.

Georgia Tech at Georgia: Georgia is Bowl fodder and the players know it. Georgia.

Penn Over Cornell
 Cornell at Pennsylvania. Thursday's top game with the Ivy League title at stake. Pennsylvania.

Kansas at Missouri: The Midwest version of the Yale-Harvard series. Kansas hasn't recovered from the Oklahoma shock. Missouri.

Washington at Notre Dame: Howie Odell reportedly quit as Yale coach last fall to get into football big time. He took the Washington post. He will regret his decision by Sunday Saturday. Notre Dame.

Tennessee at Vanderbilt: Vanderbilt teams almost always stumble when they encounter Tennessee. But this speedy Commodore team is different. Vanderbilt.

Oklahoma Over A. & M.
 Oklahoma at Oklahoma A & M: This is another Saturday affair.

Oklahoma. Mississippi State at Mississippi: The record says that Barney Poole will close his seventh year of college football Saturday with a victory. Mississippi.

Texas A & M at Texas: They will meet Thursday with only state-wide prestige at stake. Texas.

Clemson at Auburn: Bobby Gage's throwing gives his mates a big edge in this Saturday rumpus. Clemson.

Games On Grid Table For Thanksgiving Day

New York, Nov. 24.—(P)—A Cornell-Pennsylvania clash for the Ivy league title is the main dish on a slim Thanksgiving Day football menu.

Turkey Day, once the focal point of the grid season, brings only 13 games involving major college teams. In many cities, high school teams will monopolize the attention of the fans.

Texas and Texas Aggies, usually waiting for a bowl invitation, will fight for little more than the championship of Texas and Texas Aggies at Austin's Memorial Stadium.

It's still possible for Texas to tie southern Methodist for the southwest conference crown if S.M.U. should lose Saturday to Texas Christian. In any event, S.M.U. would go to the Cotton Bowl as it thumped Texas, 21-6.

Kansas and Missouri, both of whom were practically decapitated by the powerful Oklahoma Sooners, meet at Columbia, Mo. to decide second place in the Big Seven.

Utah can sew up the Big Six conference championship by downing Utah State at Salt Lake City. Wyoming plays at Denver in the other Rock Mountain district tilt.

The south, which has several top notch pairings Saturday, has four southern conference games tomorrow. Perhaps the best is Wake Forest, which has lost only three in rugged competition, meeting South Carolina. Virginia military plays at Virginia Tech, a traditional contest. Washington and Lee invades Richmond and Furman faces Davidson in a game to be played at Charlotte, N.C.

In addition to Kansas-Missouri, the west has only Kansas State at St. Louis and Nevada at Wichita.

Colgate faces Brown in the usual morning contest at Providence and San Francisco journeys to Olean, N.Y. to test the strong St. Bonaventure team.

Cornell, underrated in early fall, closes with a rush. After a disappointing loss to Army, the big Red bounced back with three straight wins including a one-point squeaker over Dartmouth.

A big strong line and a well-executed attack by such backs as Moose

Four-Round Bout With Riviera Nets Joe Louis $5,000

St. Louis, Nov. 24.—(P)—If you didn't look too closely last night you might have seen something of Joe Louis' old championship form but there wasn't one solid blow landed as the heavyweight champ shuffled through a four-round exhibition bout with Kid Riviera, a St. Louis Negro contender.

Louis netted $5,000 for the eight-minute workout which certainly didn't tax his boxing skill. The punches that Riviera managed to get through Louis' casual guard only cooled his enthusiasm when Joe returned a quick flurry of blows.

The 7,488-person crowd, which verged on boredom paid $16,960.

Louis weighed 220. Riviera was a finely-conditioned 209.

Afterwards in his dressing room, Louis described Riviera as "a cutie I wish I could have got to. He ran faster than anyone I've seen since Jersey Joe Wolcott."

Winner Of 1950 PGA Tourney Will Receive $40,000

Columbus, O., Nov. 24.—(P)—A purse of $40,000, largest in the event's history, was put up for grabs today as Columbus was awarded the 1950 golf championship.

Mayor James A. Rhodes, National Amateur Athletic Union president, said the seven-day race will be held at the Scioto Country club probably the last week in June. The sprawling Scioto course, a par 72 layout of 7,041 yards, was host to the national open in 1926, when Bobby Jones won his second crown, and to the Ryder cup matches in 1931 when the American team defeated Great Britain 9 to 3.

Rhodes announced that the annual Columbus invitation, a $10,000 affair, would not be held in 1949 under Zoogian sponsorship since the group would concentrate on the 1950 classic.

The annual classic, following sectional qualifiers, features two days of medal play qualifying at the tournament site, with the low 64 going into a five-day match play round. Ferrier holds the qualifying record with 71 63-134, set in 1946 at Portland, Ore.

Michigan Guard Chosen As Team's Most Valuable

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 24.—(P)—Dominic Tomasi, 20-year-old guard and captain of Michigan's unbeaten 1948 football team, today was his teammates' unanimous choice as the Wolverines' most valuable player.

Tomasi has been a lineman on the Michigan football team and regular second baseman on the Wolverine baseball team since he came here from Flint as a 17-year-old freshman.

Although he weighs less than 180 pounds and is small for a top-flight linemen, Tomasi was named at guard on the 1946 All-Big Nine team and was a blocking standout all season performing with the Wolverines' No. 1 offensive line.

Tomasi follows in the footsteps of the Wolverine's Chalmers (Bump) Elliott, halfback star who earned the honor last season and was awarded the Chicago Tribune trophy as the most valuable player in the conference.

WINCHESTER

Winchester—Mr. and Mrs. Warren Day and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Day and daughter, Joan, attended the wedding of Miss Audrey Booker to Allen Jones in Brighton Thursday, Nov. 25.

Mrs. Alice Ryan has received word that Mr. and Mrs. Artie Arndt of Chicago are the parents of a daughter born Saturday, Mrs. Arndt was the former Miss Alice Rose Ryan.

Mrs. Dollie Groce returned Tuesday evening from Alton.

Mrs. Dennis Fitch was removed in the Cunningham ambulance Tuesday evening from Passavant hospital to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Evans, in the Cunningham ambulance.

Baseball People Will Give Wilson 'Proper Burial'

Chicago, Nov. 24.—(P)—Hack Wilson, former Chicago Cub home run king, will have "a proper funeral," Philip K. Wrigley, president of the Chicago Cubs said today.

Wilson's body lay unclaimed for about 24 hours in the Baltimore City hospital morgue.

"A group from the east is making all funeral arrangements," said Wrigley, "nobody wants to take credit for it. But he will have a proper funeral."

Wrigley did not identify the eastern group. He said, however, he checked with "people in Baltimore to be sure that no such thing would take place."

"Baseball people will make all the arrangements for the funeral," he added.

He said services for the former Cub ace, who died Tuesday of a lung condition, probably will be held at the end of the week.

Big-Nine, Pacific Coast To Split Rose Bowl Profit

Pasadena, Calif., Nov. 24.—(P)—Here's the way the $450,000 gross receipts of the Rose Bowl football game are divided:

The Pacific Coast conference and the Big Nine split the net receipts, $50-50. The coast's competing school gets half of this amount, $25,000 goes to the conference treasury and the balance is divided among the 10 conference members—including the competing school.

The Big Nine divides its 50 per cent into 11 shares—two shares to the competing school, one share each to the eight other conference schools and one to the commissioner's office.

Game expenses, such as rental, tickets and staff, come out of the gross receipts. The Tournament of Roses, as custodian for the day of the $250,000 stadium, collects nothing but rental, which is based on a sliding scale.

Kinsey Denies His Report' In Error

Baltimore, Nov. 24.—(P)—Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey has an answer for those who think the pollsters' previous forecasts about the presidential election mean that the "Kinsey Report" may be in error.

"We recorded what people did, not what they were going to do. The thing about the election was that people simply changed their minds."

Dr. Kinsey, principal author of "Sexual Behavior in the Human Male," spoke yesterday to a small group of professional men and women at Johns Hopkins University. The book was based on the results of extensive interviewing.

VERSAILLES CHURCH TO SERVE DINNER

Versailles—The annual dinner and supper sponsored here annually by the Methodist church will be held Thursday at the church. Baked chicken will feature the menu.

Rose Bowl Bound

Winchester Quint Captures Opener From Mt. Sterling

Mt. Sterling—The basket eye of Coach Howard Lester's Wildcats were altogether too much for the local lads here Wednesday night. The Winchester tribe, paced by Hankins and McDonald, won their first game of the season by a 55-36 tally.

Coach Lester used only five men during the fray. Hankins was good for 20; McDonald collected 15 and Stuart connected for 11 points.

The game was all tied up at 19 all at the half, but the visitors poured on the heat in the third stanza and carried through to an impressive victory.

Mt. Sterling reserves won the opener 39-24.

Virginia Cagers Win Homecoming Contest 35-32

Virginia—Coach Cecil McVey's Virginia cagers did themselves proud Wednesday evening by "bringing home the bacon" to the cheering homecomers jam-packed into the Virginia school gym. A fourth period rally produced a 35-32 victory.

The homecoming hustle with Chandlerville, the Roy Sarff quint, was a battle royal, particularly during the last quarters.

The invaders got off to a lively start, finishing a good eleven points ahead in the first stanza. Once the local lads got a line-up on the basket, however, they outscored Chandlerville in each of the following three frames.

Midway in the fourth period, Forward Walrich sang a good one to tie the count at 27 all. Chandlerville came back, only to see Walrich again whittle away their margin.

Rogers laid in a free one to gain the lead, a lead the home boys were able to maintain.

The thriller-chiller game climaxed a day of homecoming celebration for the happy Virginia crowd.

Other highlights included an afternoon parade, complete with a dozen floats, and the coronation of the 1948 queen, pretty Wanda Freitag of south of Arcadia.

Even the Virginia reserves had that specialzing, which made it possible for them to carry their game 20-18 against the Chandlerville seconds.

Georgia Tech Is Slated To Take Defensive Honors

New York, Nov. 24.—(P)—Only a complete collapse against Georgia on Saturday can deprive Georgia Tech's stubborn engineers of 1948 honors as the nation's greatest defensive football unit.

In nine games the Tech defenders have granted opponents an average of only 131.1 yards, both by land and air, while their closest rivals, the Nittany Lions of Penn State, have yielded 185.4 yards. The statistics are supplied by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau.

Tech not only leads in overall defensive strength, but also is tops in halting opponents' rushes. Only 57.9 yards have been averaged through its line by opposing ball carriers, compared to 75.3 yards yielded by second place Penn.

Only once in nine games have the engineers permitted an opponent to score on a pass. Their ability along that line will be put to a severe test on Saturday, as Georgia has proved itself the fourth best passing team in the country and has scored seven times through the air.

The Northwestern-Wildcats stand a good chance to carry the nation's best pass defense record into their Rose Bowl game against California. Richmond is the present leader, having yielded an average of 49 aerial yards per game, with Northwestern a close-up second at 54.1 yards.

This week end, however, Richmond must defend against one of the "throwingest" teams in the land, Washington and Lee, while the Wildcats will be idle.

The North Carolina Tarheels, strong bowl game aspirants from the Southern conference, boast exceptional defensive equipment. They stand third both in overall defense and in holding opponents' rushes, and besides have the best punting average, 44.3 yards on 59 boots.

Unless Charlie Justice stuns his kicking toe against Virginia on Saturday, the Tarheels should wind up with a new all-time punting average. Auburn set the present record of 43.3 yards in 1939.

Oklahoma's Sooners, still another quarry of the bowl game promoters, threaten to set two all-time records for punt returns in their final against the Oklahoma Aggies.

Up to now the Sooners led by Darrel Royal have returned 42 kicks for a total of 952 yards. They need only 23 more yards to crack the record of 974 set by Tennessee in 1940. The team's average of 22.7 yards per return compares with the present record of 22 yards set by N.Y.U. in 1944.

Following are the team defense leaders:

Total defense (average yards yielded per game, rushing and passing)—Georgia Tech, 131.1; Penn State, 185.4; North Carolina, 165.9; Army, 167.1; Vanderbilt, 177.4; Maryland, 179.4; Tennessee, 181.2; Oklahoma, 183.0; Clemson, 183.9; N. Carolina State, 185.4.

Sooner's Won Title

Oklahoma's powerful Sooners, with a 5-0 slate within the conference, have the title clinched.

The day's leading attraction in the south pits Wake Forest against South Carolina on the latter's gridiron. Wake Forest has a 4-2 standing in the Southern Conference and could climb into fifth place in the 16-team loop by winning.

Utah, leading the Big Six conference with four straight victories, will be out to clinch honors in the Rocky Mountain region by winning its final against Utah State at Salt Lake City.

AP Forecaster Makes Last Predictions

New York, Nov. 24.—(P)—Answering the bell for the last round of pie-predictions in 1948 with a final effort to add a few points to an average that now stands at .786 on 552 correct guesses and 150 misses after nine weeks:

Army vs. Navy—Although Army hasn't lost a game and Navy hasn't won, this Saturday contest still is the glamor game of them all. The Middles always play their best against their service rivals, but their best this year is none too good. Given good weather, Army can name the score. Here's where both streaks carry over until 1949. Army.

Georgia Tech. vs. Georgia—Saturday will be a red letter day in the Southeastern Conference with three of the title and a bowl bid or two. If the Bulldogs win here, they can have the works. Then how about Georgia and Oklahoma at the Sugar Bowl? On Johnny Rauch's passing, Georgia.

Texas Christian vs. Southern Methodist—With its role of Cotton Bowl host and at least a half interest in the Southwest Conference title assured, S.M.U. really hasn't much to play for Saturday. But the Mustangs aren't likely to forget that tie which TCU hung on them a year ago. A hefty vote for Southern Methodist.

The treasuries of two Jacksonville organizations were bolstered considerably Wednesday night when the Lions club "declared a dividend for community service."

Checks amounting to $1,560, the major portion of the annual Lions club fall festival profits, were presented. The Morgan County Fair association received $750; the Jacksonville Health Fund gained a like amount.

Richard Lukeman, a co-chairman for the successful festival, presented the first check to Claude C. Gustine, president of the county fair association.

O. A. Schuette, president of the Lions club, awarded the second check to Dr. E. C. Bone, head of the Jacksonville Health Fund. Mr. Schuette served in the absence of Lewis Sims, festival co-chairman.

The two representatives of the Lions club expressed "a hope that this sum will help your organization to gain its goal. Our only regret is that we cannot give a larger amount."

The recipients thanked the club in the name of the members of their respective organizations.

Later in the evening plans were made for the annual Ladies Night banquet which will be held Dec. 8.

The club, by a vote of 41 to 3, decided to present its annual minstrel again this season.

MacMurray, I.C. Cast To Present 'Craig's Wife'

The play "Craig's Wife" will climax the Thanksgiving Day festivities at MacMurray College when it is presented at 8:15 p.m. at the College Theatre.

This tense and biting satire on human nature reveals a full length portrait of a woman of tremendous power.

Mrs. Craig's credo is that a woman should seek from marriage independence and security rather than romantic love and her guarantee of the permanence of a home for herself is "the control of the man upon which they are founded." She is a fanatical housekeeper, discourages the visits of her husband's friends and alienates him from his family.

Mr. Craig's handling of the situation brings the play to a fitting climax.

The cast will include six MacMurray girls and four Illinois College men.

The play will be repeated on Friday night at 8:15 p.m.

Whooping Cough And Diphtheria Slump In State

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 24. —(P)—Diphtheria and whooping cough—two of childhood's greatest enemies—are taking a licking in Illinois.

If present trends continue for the rest of 1948, the incidence of each disease will establish a record annual low.

Through November 13, only 89 diphtheria cases were recorded in the state as against 150 for the comparable 1947 period, the state health department reported today.

Over the same span 2,022 whooping cough cases were recorded compared with 4,290 up to mid-November last year.

Dr. Roland R. Cross, state health director, said widespread immunization against the two diseases "undoubtedly" was responsible for their decline.

The 43-year-old former representative was accused by a federal grand jury yesterday of failing to register with Congress as a lobbyist for grain interests who, the jury said, paid Slaughter over $43,000 for his services.

The indictment was returned after a three months investigation by the Justice Department. It charged Slaughter with violating the Lobbying Act—passed the same year Mr. Truman successfully fought the Kansas Citizen's reelection bid.

Slaughter said, however, the department "not only knows that it cannot make a case, but likewise knows that my contracts of employment, in writing, as drawn by me specifically exclude 'lobbying activities.'"

Bishop Levels Stiff Blast At House Probers

Newark, N. J., Nov. 24. —(P)—The house un-American activities committee last night drew censure from Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam for what he called "a futile attempt to discredit the word 'Protestant.'"

The bishop had reference to a committee report issued Tuesday which called the Methodist Federation For Social Action "a tool of the Communist party."

Oxnam told the Northern New Jersey Conference of the Methodist church:

"The committee on un-American activities, whose chairman is under indictment for activities allegedly un-American and criminal, has now presumed to speak in the field of religion."

(Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-N.J.), committee chairman, has been charged with making false salary claims against the government).

Slaughter, Purge Victim, Will Fight U. S. Indictment

Washington, Nov. 24. —(P)—Roger C. Slaughter, the Missouri Democrat President Truman purged from Congress in 1946, today mapped a "fight to a finish" against a lobbying indictment he called "politically inspired."

The 43-year-old former representative was accused by a federal grand jury yesterday of failing to register with Congress as a lobbyist for grain interests who, the jury said, paid Slaughter over $43,000 for his services.

Conference Report Given For Scout Council Tuesday

At the monthly meeting of the Jacksonville Girl Scout council held Tuesday evening, Mrs. Orville Foreman, commissioner, gave an interesting report on the Great Lakes Regional Girl Scout conference, held recently in Detroit.

The regional conference included the states of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, and Wisconsin. Major emphasis of the conference was placed on the campaign program in scouting, Mrs. Foreman reported. At present 34 councils in the region are developing camp sites. Jacksonville is one of these, and hopes to have its troop camp at Lake Jacksonville in operation in '49.

Standing committee reports were made by the following chairmen: membership, Mrs. Harry Hammett; camp development, Mrs. Philip Bradish; day camp, Mrs. Charles Eggenberger; finance, Mrs. Ernest Savage; training, Mrs. Robert Hemphill; staff and office, Mrs. John Hackett; organization, Mrs. Wilbur Kurtz. The executive's report was given by Miss Catherine Schirz.

A committee comprised of Mrs. Kurtz, Mrs. Hemphill, and Mrs. John Taylor was appointed to make arrangements for a party to be held in December for all Girl Scout leaders in recognition and appreciation of their service and fine contribution to the Girl Scouts of Jacksonville and Morgan county.

Plans for the annual meeting of the Jacksonville Girl Scout council were also outlined.

Relatives Honor J. H. Richter On 83rd Birthday

J. H. Richter, 736 East Chambers street, was pleasantly surprised Tuesday evening when his two daughters and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Widner and Ollie Ogborn, visited him at his home to help celebrate his 83rd birthday.

Arriving with their arms laden with the ingredients necessary for an oyster supper and bearing a huge birthday cake, the two daughters soon prepared a sumptuous birthday feast. Mr. Richter opened his many birthday gifts, after which the congratulatory cards were read. The remainder of the evening was spent in reminiscing over old photographs.

Mr. Richter, now retired, was employed as maintenance foreman by the Burlington railroad for many years.

Program Given At Meeting Of Tuesday Club

"Sunday Night Suppers" was the theme of the program given Tuesday afternoon at the meeting of the Tuesday club, held with Mrs. Ray Steinheimer, 405 Woodland Place.

The program was in the charge of Mrs. Bryce Wall, who in her talk made a comparison with the menus of today and those of several years ago, pointing out that the men and women of preceding generations required more food because of the strenuous work they were obliged to do.

A group of pictures, illustrating table settings, various types of table arrangement and foods, was shown by Mrs. Wall. Recipes were also given.

The business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. C. R. Gibson. At the conclusion of the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostess. Guests included Mrs. B. Halter, Mrs. C. R. Short and Mrs. Hugh Green.

Let 'er blow...

The one thing that won't help you through the winter is a lot of talk. So we'll make it brief:

Change now to winter-grade Conoco Nth Motor Oil for faster starts, peak winter engine performance and the full-time protection of OIL-PLATING.

Faster starts: Winter-grade Nth is specially refined to lubricate your engine even when the temperature plunges. It's free-flowing.

Peak winter performance: When you drain out that thick, dirty summer oil, you say goodbye to balky engine response. Winter-grade Nth puts June under the hood!

Full-time protection: A special added ingredient fastens an extra protective film of lubricant to metal surfaces... OIL-PLATES every working part... cuts down "dry" friction starts and general engine wear.

Let winter blow...

Oil-Plate and go!

OUR BLESSINGS ARE MANY ON THIS THANKSGIVING DAY

To the Pilgrim mothers who prepared that first Thanksgiving dinner, a modern store would be a revelation! Foods from all over the world... cooking aids that they never dreamed of... linens and china and glassware, the likes of which kings of their day could not afford! And to the Pilgrim fathers that vast financial structure that has made this progress possible... factories, railroads, mines and mills... would prove equally astounding! We are proud to have played a part in the building of that progress... grateful to be able to serve each and every American in a constant endeavor to further the ideals and principles of democracy that keep this progress secure!

THE STORY: Well-to-do Louis Durand carries on a correspondence courtship with a Miss Julia Russell, whom he has never seen. She comes from St. Louis to New Orleans by boat to marry him. She is young, ravishing, blond. Within a month of their marriage, she withdraws $50,000 from his bank account and disappears. Investigation proves her an impostor. Durand retains Walter Down, detective, to prove that a crime was committed against the real Julia Russell, who vanished on the boat trip to New Orleans. A year later, Durand is alone in Biloxi. He makes the acquaintance of a Colonel Worth in a hotel bar. Worth persuades Durand to dine with him and his fiancée, Miss Castle, the following evening. At the restaurant, Durand catches a glimpse of Miss Castle before he is seen himself. She is the woman he knew as Julia. He quickly leaves.

XXXIII
ONE thing and one alone he wanted, one thing alone he'd have. He wanted her death.
He stood for a while outside their hotel, hers and Worth's, to calm himself, to compose himself. Then he turned and went into the brightly lighted lobby of the place. He went undeviatingly toward the desk, stopped before it, drummed his fingernails upon its white-veined black marble top to hasten the clerk's attention.
Then when he had it: "I'm a friend of Colonel Worth's. I've just left him and his party at the Grotto."
"Yes, sir. Can I be of service?"
"One of the young ladies with us—I believe she's stopping here—found the evening chiller than she expected it to be. She's sent me back for her scarf. She explained to me where it's to be found. May I be allowed to go up and fetch it for her?"
The clerk was professionally cautious. "Could you describe her to me?"
"She's blond, and a rather small little person."

SHE was present to every faculty but vision. Her perfume still lay ghostly on the air. He could feel her at the ends of all his pores. A discarded taffeta garment flung over the back of a chair rustled again as she moved, in memory, in his ears.
It whipped his hate so, it steered him to his purpose. He made no false step, wasted not a move.
The bellboy had remained deferentially beside the open door.
"She must be mistaken," Durand said plausibly, for the other's benefit but as if speaking to himself. "I don't see it over the chair." He raised the taffeta underslip, replaced it again. "It must be in one of these bureau drawers." He opened one, closed it again. Then a second. From this he withdrew a length of filmy heliotrope voile, sufficient at least for the purpose of his visit if nothing else.
"This, I guess," he said, concealing a relieved smile at his good fortune.
He closed the drawer, came back toward the door, stuffing it into his side pocket.

The clerk's doubts vanished. "Oh, that's the colonel's fiancée. Miss Castle. In Room Two-six. I'll have a bellboy take you up immediately, sir."
He jarred a bell, handed over a key with the requisite instructions.
Durand was taken up to the second floor, in a ponderous lattice-work elevator. Its shaft transparent on all sides. He noted that a staircase coiled around this on the outside. Rising as it rose, attaining the same destination.
They went down a hall. There was a brief delay as the bellboy fitted key to door and tried it. Then as the door opened, the most curious sensation that he had ever had swept over Durand. It was as though he were near her all over again.
She went from there to his own room, unlocked his traveling bag, and took out the pistol. He cracked it open, though he knew already it was fully charged; and found that it was. Then he sheathed it in the inside pocket of his coat and returned to her hotel.
He went up the stairs to the second floor without meeting anybody. He followed the corridor along which the page had led him before, with its flower-embroidered carpeting and walnut-dark doors. He paused before one of them, cast a quick precautionary look about him, seized the knob, gave it a rapid turn, and was in. He closed it after him.
There were the same low night lights burning. She wasn't back. He selected a chair at random, sank into it to wait.
He waited from then on without a move, and the night seemed to wait with him.
It must have been hours later that he heard her laugh, somewhere far in the distance.
